FOREWORD

The Englar Reunion held July 10, 1927, at Pipe Creek Baptist Church, near New Windsor, Carroll County, Maryland, was the first meeting ever held ostensibly for the reuniting of the many descendants of PHILIP ENGLAR (1736-1817).

Each generation preceding this present one has probably had its members interested in the lives and activities of our forbears,but this interest did not take active form with the majority until this formal gathering.

The reunion was most appropriately held at Pipe Creek Church, as Philip Englar, first resident minister of Pipe Creek, gave the land for the church and adjoining grove from his farm, the original Englar homestead in Maryland. This church was organized in 1758, the First German Baptist Church (now of the Brethren) in the State of Maryland. Philip Englar was made Presiding Elder from 1770 to 1810.

The desire was voiced at this reunion that we should trace back further than the Senior Philip Englar, if possible, and from thence down to the youngest existing generation; and if an authentic genealogy chart could be compiled with contemporary history, it should be put in book or pamphlet form for the use of present and future generations. Individual questionnaires were accordingly sent out. These, however, did not elicit authentic information prior to the time of Philip Senior and we will, therefore, begin at that point on our chart.

It has been found impossible for one person to make a complete record, so this is just a beginning. Others can take up the work in the future and add details from time to time. The greater part of the material in hand has been furnished by members of the older generation, or those already deceased, and by this pamphlet we hope to preserve this information and hand it down in indestructible form for future generations. We are very much indebted to the older generations who kept such accurate records in the old family Bibles.

There are two distinct forms of spelling our family name —ENGLAR and ENGLER. The former seems to have been mostly used in the early documents coming into our possession, and is the form almost exclusively used in Maryland. The ENGLER form is used largely in the north and west, and apparently has the indorsement of authorities familiar with the spelling of Swiss proper names,which would give it standing as the original spelling. In this connection is seems authoritative to say that the correct pronunciation of the name is ENG-LAR, with emphasis on the ENG, rather than the pronunciation that gives the ENG the sound of ING, as in England.

The Deed of September 1764 gives the name both ANGLER and ENGLER. Philip's name is spelled ENGLAR on a bond of August 29, 1793, and also on a deed of August 10, 1814. Philip and David, brothers, as executors of Philip Englar Estate signed their names ENGLAR in 1825. The ANGLER spelling in this instance was in all probability the sound of the ENG-LAR pronunciation to the writer of the Deed.

At the family reunion held in 1928 the worn condition of the grave stone of Philip Englar was brought to the attention of those present. A committee was appointed to solicit funds, and ascertain a means of preserving the stone. At the 1929 meeting the Committee reported necessary funds in hand, and a plan was approved to imbed the original slate marker into a granite block, with a copy of the old inscription carved thereon.

The following history and genealogy is, to the best of my knowledge, correct, and the author hopes it may be an inspiration and source of pride to the various progeny of PHILIP ENGLAR (1736-1817.)

VIVIAN ENGLAR BARNES.

August 12, 1929.

EXPLANATION.

Figures placed to the left of each name denote the number of that individual in line, and the letter the generation to which he belongs.

Figures and letters placed in parentheses between given and surname refer to first occurrence of that name.

Abbreviations—

b—born m—married
d—deceased

A—First generation
B—Second generation
C—Third generation
D—Fourth generation
E—Fifth generation

FIRST GENERATION

A1 PHILIP ENGLAR m MARGARET HOLVERSTOT

b—Dec. 30, 1736 b—Dec. 27, 1742
d—Apr 15, 1817 d—June 15, 1819

Both buried in Wolfe's Cemetery.

Nothing has been found that would give authentic information about the parents of this Philip Englar.

The story handed down to us by tradition largely is that this Philip (A1) was born in Appenzell, near Saint Gallen, in Switzerland and was brought to this country when a boy of ten, in company with a brother, Jacob, by an uncle, Adam Englar, a sea captain who was later lost at sea on a voyage from Baltimore to the West Indies. Nothing is known of Philip Englar from the time he landed in Philadelphia in 1748 until September 1764, when he came from Chester County, province of Pennsylvania into the province of Maryland and bought of Stephen Bower a tract of land containing 107 acres for 185 pounds.

This same farm was found recently to be land sold by Andrew Hoover, great-great-grandfather of our present President Herbert Hoover, to Stephen Bower in 1762. This was sold in turn by Stephen Bower to Philip Englar two years later in 1764. This is the original Englar homestead in Maryland. (The copy of the deed and will of Philip Englar will be found in this pamphlet). Philip Englar was the first resident minister and associate in founding of German Baptist faith in America.

A record, or Log Book, now in possession of Samuel Englar, a descendant of Joseph Englar, youngest son of Philip, Senio. now living in Baltimore, gives an account of the voyage of Adan Englar. The first date plainly given is September 20, 1771, at the head of the following, "The first part of this 24 hours, pleasant weather at 2 P. M., spoke a Brig from New Castle, Geo. Callender, bound to Boston, out 8 weeks. At 4 P. M. saw a sloop standing to the northwest, and at 2 A. M.., carried away our Toppinlift; got in the boom and hauled M. S., at 8 A. M.; got it spliced, and set M. S. and in square sail."

A large portion of the writing is in German. Both English and German writing are well executed. The above is characteristic of most of the entries. We also find the following. "Journal of a voyage from St. Johns, Newfoundland, in the good sloop, "Garland," Adam Englar, master, and by God's permission bound for Teneriff. Saturday the 10th. of October, 1772." In addition to Adam we find the names of Philip, Jacob and David Englar.

This Adam Englar is thought to have made on board ship a clock now in possession of Mrs. Emma Englar Gibbons Davis, grand-daughter of the above mentioned Joseph. The clock is entirely hand wrought.

Reference to the "Log Book," and some other information, is from "The Englars" a portion of the "History of Linwood" written for The Carroll Record in 1895 by Jesse P. Garner, who says in his concluding paragraph; "We are under special obligation to Dr. Lee Royer who has been a tireless worker in the collection of material." Dr. Royer's connection with the Englar family is given under (D143).

SECOND GENERATION

(Children of Philip (A1) and Margaret Holverstot)

B2 JACOB ENGLAR m. MARY

b—1764 b—1773
d—1809 d—1854

Killed in accident. Brothers, David and Philip, were executors of estate. Papers now in possession of John A. Englar, (D134).

B3 ELIZABETH ENGLAR m. STEM
2m. JOHN STONER

John Stoner was the father of Mary Stoner, wife of Philip (B6).

B4 MARY ENGLAR m. 1799 JACOB SNADER

b—1770 b—1762
d—1835 d—1847

Buried in Pipe Creek Cemetery.

The home of this marriage is the farm now owned by Walter Strine two miles south of New Windsor. Name spelled Swether in Father's will.

B5 DAVID ENGLAR m. 1799 ELIZABETH STEM

b—Feb. 9, 1773 b—June 20, 1777
d—Aug. 9, 1839 d—Nov. 12, 1849

Both buried in Pipe Creek Cemetery.

David Englar, born near Linwood and died near same place, was a preacher in the German Baptist Church, as well as an elder from 1813 to 1835. He was known to be very conservative in accepting new ideas and ways. His wife, Elizabeth Stem, was born near Germantown, Pennsylvania, and died near Linwood, Maryland.

"David Englar, his hand or pen,
He will be good but God knows when."—Amen.

has been ascribed to the above, but scarcely seems applicable in view of the conservative tone already given him. He moved into Priestland Valley in the year of his marriage, 1799. His farm came from the Gillingham tract which lies southeast of Linwood and has been known in late years as the Jonas Englar farm, now owned by James Schneider.

B6 PHILIP ENGLAR m. Nov. 2, 1805 MARY STONER

b—May 13, 1777
d—Dec. 19, 1852
Buried in Pipe Creek Cemetery.

b—July 20, 1784
d—Apr. 30, 1833
Buried in Wolfe's graveyard

2m. MRS. HITESHEW

Philip, unlike his brother David, was very progressive and purchased a carriage while they were still looked upon as entirely too worldly. This innovation caused a stir among members of Pipe Creek Church.

In 1798, he moved into Priestland Valley and purchased a farm from the Gillingham tract which adjoined that of his brother, David. This farm in late years was known as the Marshall Hartsock farm. A log house which was still standing in 1895 was built in 1799.

B7 JOSEPH ENGLAR m. ESTHER RINEHART

b—1780
d—1845

b—1785
d—1867

Buried in Pipe Creek Cemetery.

In an agreement (now in possession of John A. Englar, son of Josiah) between Philip (A1) and Joseph (B7) the plantation was conveyed to Joseph (B7) as well as the stock and all farming implements for $5,800.00 "and it was further agreed that Joseph should support his Father and Mother on the said place and provide in all things for their comfortable maintenance." If the parents became dissatisfied, Joseph was to pay them Fifty pounds per annum to enable them to procure support elsewhere.

The original place was held by his descendants until sold by his grandson, Samuel Englar, to William Zepp.

Esther Rinehart was born in Chester County, Pennsylvania.

A descendant of Joseph (B7), Samuel Englar, of Baltimore, is in possession of the original deed, etc., of the first Phillip.

B8 SUSAN ENGLAR m. LUDWICK MILLER
2m. SAMUEL TIGART

Lived in Pennsylvania.

B9 MARGARET ENGLAR m. WILLIAM PLAINE

B10 CATHERINE ENGLAR m. DAVID WAMPLER

David Wampler was deacon of Pipe Creek before he moved to Ohio in 1826.

Parents of the famous Sculptor-William Henry Rinehart

The story is told that Mary, the mother, "had had her own life dream" and had shown signs as a child of an artistic and poetic nature. She quickly nurtured the genius in her son William, and the love and understanding between them was most marked. His early clay bust of her "and the last cap she wore" revealed to his family her artistic ability. After her death he made from this the beautiful bust now at the Peabody but which he kept with him in his studio in Rome until his death.

Israel Rinehart was a man of stern unbending will but noted for his thrift, his perserverance and economy. He greatly desired his sons to become farmers and it was with great reluctance that he finally recognized the great talent of his son.

(The above is an extract from the Maryland Historical Magazine of December 1924 kindly loaned the author by William Rinehart, Union Bridge, nephew and namesake of the Sculptor.)

2m. MARY WRIGHT
Probably buried in Cumberland.

3m. CAROLINE FEAGA
b—April 1829
d—Aug. 26, 1912
Buried in Pipe Creek Cemetery

The story is told that Josiah (C29) ran away from home because he did not want to become a farmer. He finally reached Cumberland where he became a tanner. In 1866 he moved to Linwood with family and with his brother Jonas (C31) founded the town which was named after the Linwood trees on the Joseph L. Haines place. Josiah (C29) was the first merchant, miller, and postmaster. He owned the present Harry Haines farm from which he sold lots to Washington Senseney and Jonas Englar for first homes there.

William Henry Rinehart was born in the Rinehart home-[stead], no longer standing, one and one-half miles from Union [Bridge]. His schooling, including Quaker Hill School, Priest-[ley] and Calvert College, New Windsor, did not appeal to [him] and the career of farmer was chosen for him by his fath-[er]. He was a great favorite and had the ability to make and [keep] friends. He showed early ability for modeling in clay [and] the large marble quarry on the farm gave him the oppor-[tunity] to learn the stone cutting trade at eighteen years of age. [At] twenty-one he left for Baltimore and was presented by a [business] acquaintance of his father to Baughman and Bevan [the] largest stone cutters in the city. His first work to gain at-[tention] was on the mantle in the home of William T. Walters [which] was so skilfully done that it aroused the interest of Mr. [Walters] who became his life-long friend and patron. These [allowed] years of work and study here and abroad. Great [success] came to him and his early death in Rome, Italy, was a [tragic] loss to the world. A great many objects of his art are [in] the Peabody. His desire was to be buried at Greenmount [Cemetery] in Baltimore. His will made in 1873 provided for a [scholarship] to aid young sculptors in furthering their ca-[reer].

(The above is a brief extract of the life of William Henry [Rinehart] loaned the author by William Rinehart.)

EXPLANATION AND CORRECTION.

After 16 pages had been printed, and all the copy for the 5th. generation was in hand, it was found necessary to condense the remaining pages by omitting "Children of" where there were no children and the "b" and "d" lines where no dates were available, in order that the book might be kept within smaller bounds.

The absence of dates after many names, is due to the failure of the individual to give the desired information on the personal questionnaires sent out.

The following corrections are noted in the order in which they appear.

Page 12—Date of Mary Snader Rinehart's death is 1865.

Page 14—Jonas Englar's second wife was Eliza Jane Roop

Page 20—Clemae Snader Shriver was born in 1846.

Page 22—Elizabeth Haines died in 1928.

Page 24—John E. Senseney died on Sept. 22, 1921.

Page 36—The name of Charles J. Shriner's wife is Ivis Blanchard.

Page 41—Abram Snader was born in 1867.

Page 45—Mamie Nicodemus (E418) married a Mr. Kindley.

HOW TO USE CHART.

The genealogical chart is so planned to be two-fold in purpose. First, that one can gain a graphic view of their individual relation to the first Philip (1736—1817) and second, as an index to the foregoing history.

The four generations after Philip (A1) are placed in vertical columns to be read from page to page as though in an unbroken chart. The names of the individuals belonging to these generations are to be found in the designated column with a letter and number after each. The letter refers to the generation (the book is divided in chapters headed by the various generations) and the number to the individual himself. (These numbers follow in sequence.)

SIXTH GENERATION.

(The blank pages in back of book are for the use of the individual in carrying on their own particular line. Sufficient space is left for a Seventh, Eighth, etc., generation.)

STEPHEN BOWER to PHILIP ENGLER, Deed

Rec'd the 16th. day of Sept. 1764 to be recorded, and recorded same day in Lit folio 765 among the Land Records of Frederick County and Examined.

JOHN DARNALL, Clk.

JACOB ENGLAR (probably) BROTHER OF PHILIP I)

This Jacob (1753-1816) married a Phoebe—(1751-1815). They had two children David (1783-1848) and Daniel (1786-1849). David married Anna Dayhoff and of this marriage nine children were born one of which, Abraham, married Mary Ann Brown, (D61) daughter of Jacob Englar, (B2), son of Philip I. Of this marriage, as already mentioned, Preston B. Englar (E229) of Taneytown, was born. Other children of David and Anna were: Phoebe, who married a Haines; Uriah; Mary Ann; John; Hannah; Catherine who married Henry Englar (D54) Elizabeth, and Rebecca. This intermarriage with Philip's (A1) family, strengthens the theory of the relationship.

At the head of McKinstry's dam, on the east side of Sam's Creek, is an old landmark which denotes the beginning of this tract of land. It is a rock on which are engraved three letters N. P. and E. The N. stands for the Norris tract, now owned by George Lambert; P. for the Pusey tract on which the village of McKinstry is built, and E. for the Englar tract which included part of the M. O. Repp and Evan McKinstry farms. This Englar was known as blind Daniel Englar, brother of the above mentioned David who also owned land in this section.

PHILIP ENGLAR, OF BAVARIA.

The descendants of the above live in our neighborhood, but there is no record of any relationship with Philip Englar, of Appenzell, St. Gallen, Switzerland, except that they lived in adjoining territories in Europe. Philip Englar, of Bavaria, married Mary Ann Heffner. There were three children born of this marriage—Frederick, Mary and Basil. These children were sent to America to relatives to be educated, along with sufficient money to do so. The money, however, was dissipated before reaching America and the children were "bound out." Frederick, the oldest, was but nine years of age.

(The above information was given by Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Englar, of Pittsburgh.)

WILL OF PHILIP ENGLER.

In the Name of God, Amen. I, Philip Engler, of Frederick county and State of Maryland, being in a tolerable state of health, but calling to mind the uncertainty of life, Do make and ordain this as my last Will and Testament in manner and form as follows to wit, My soul I commit into the hands of a Merciful God and my body to the earth to be buried in a decent Christian like manner, at the discretion of my Executor—

I first direct that my Funeral expenses and just debts be fully paid and satisfied. I then direct that all my Estate real and personal be sold (except such a part of my personal Estate as my wife shall be disposed to retain) and out of the money raised by such sale there is to be paid to Catherine Wampler (my Eldest daughter) Four Hundred and Sixty-seven Dollars —To My daughter Elizabeth Stem, One Hundred Dollars, To my Daughter Mary Snether Fifteen Hundred and four Dollars —To the children of my Daughter Susanna by her late Husband Ludwick Miller, Nine Hundred and Ninety-three Dollars, which sums added to what each of my Children (abovenamed) have already received will make up to each the sum of Eighteen Hundred Dollars, (áll the rest having been paid that Amount) —and I do order and direct that my Executor pay the same from time to time as received by them, to those who shall in their Opinion most Needily, and all the residue of my Estate shall be put out on Interest for the use of my Wife, and such a part of the Interest or principal paid her from time to time by my Executors as she shall require, and after the death of my Wife the whole of the residue shall be divided into nine equal parts and paid over to each of my children living at the time one share, and one share to the heirs of each of those that may be dead, and it is to be understood that before the Executors dispose of any part of my Personal Estate, That my wife is at liberty to select therefrom what she thinks fit, and the same to belong to her and subject to be disposed of by her as she sees cause, and whereas I may pay a part of the above Legacies during my life, it is therefore to be understood that any advance which I may make to either is to be considered in part of the sum bequeathed them, and my Executors are only to pay the balance after deducting the sums so advanced, and I hereby appoint my sons, David Englar and Philip Englar, Executors of this my last Will and Testament, with full power and authority to sell and dispose of and also convey all the Estate remaining in my possession (except as before excepted) as fully and amply as I myself could do, Ratifying and confirming this as my last Will and Testament.

In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this 2 day of June 1814.
Signed, sealed and pronounced as his last will and testament in presence of— PHILIP ENGLAR (SEAL)

SKETCH OF PIPE CREEK CHURCH.

As Pipe Creek Church has been so intimately connected with the Englar family for so many years, and will continue in the same close relation for so many years more, it seems appropriate to give the following very brief sketch of its history in this volume.

Martin Urner 2nd. (nephew of the Martin Urner who was with the first body of Baptists to migrate to this country in 1719) came to Maryland and organized Pipe Creek Church in 1758 and became its first elder. He bought land here and preached at Pipe Creek but lived and died at Coventry, Schuylkill Co., Pa., in 1799. His son Jonas Urner moved here in 1811 and was elder at Pipe Creek until his death in 1813. He is buried in Wolfe's Graveyard, then Pipe Creek's burying ground.

The Pipe Creek congregation of 1778 embraced the presen Eastern District of Maryland and the old brethren were loath to divide. David Englar was the oldest minister at Pipe Creek. When one of the members asked about congregational lines he is quoted to say, "let us not build a fence between Pipe Creek and Beaver Dam." Up to 1853 there were three churches with the one in Middletown valley. Then Monocacy and Bush Creek were organized out of Beaver Dam. Meadow Branch House was built in 1847. Sam's Creek house in 1860 and three congregations were made by again dividing Pipe Creek in 1885.
